Humorous Pianist To Present Concert

Laughs are the main billing of Henry L. Scott, humorist concert pianist, who will perform at NWMSC February 19. Two performances will be given in the Ad building auditorium. The first at 2 p.m. and the second at 4 p.m.

Scott, a widely acclaimed showman, has been dubbed with such titles as "The Will Rogers of the Piano," and "The Greatest Artist in the Humorous Concert World." These titles have been given to him by such news media as TIME and LIFE.

Tour Master

Touring is a main form of audience contact for Scott. His concert travels have included performances ranging from college campuses to Carnegie Hall.

The addition of humor to Scott's piano playing does not detract from his keyboard artistry, so reviews say. His program includes selections by such composers as Bach and Chopin, although altered slightly by puns, gags, and gimmicks.

Good Reviews

From releases that have come out, Scott should fit the cliché, "And they laughed when I sat down to play."

Deadline Set For March 23

Deadline date for the second NORTHWEST MISSOURIAN literary issue has been set for March 23, reports adviser, D. F. Peel. The second issue will be published in April.

Rules for the submittal of essays and poems will be similar to the rules for previous editions. In addition to poems and essay, original cartoons will be featured in the April publication.

Cartoons submitted may either be of the "comic strip" nature, or of the "single" cartoon variety. More detailed cartooning rules will be published in next week's MISSOURIAN.

Short stories of about 1,200 words will be considered also. The second literary issue will be identical to the first except that the special edition will consist entirely of NWMSC literary and cartoon efforts.

Two students tied for first place in The Missourians first poetry contest. Linda Jones for "His New Love" and A. L. James for "March" will each be awarded five dollars. No prizes were awarded for short stories or essays.

Literary compositions submitted, but not printed, will be used in the second issue.

The best of the poetry published in the MISSOURIAN will be used in a book of NWMSC poetry to be compiled this spring.

Weekly Bowl Contests End 'No Interest'

Campus Bowl has been stopped as a weekly feature. Officials comment that the reason is due to the lack of student interest in the contests.

There is still a chance of a NWMSC team appearing on an Omaha television station. Twenty students have been selected to be coached by Dr. George Gayler and Mr. Guy Bensusan. The twenty selected are Cary Holst, Tim Johnson, Tom Whitney, Ray Boone, Dick Smith.

Ruth Ann Elliott, Doug Binau, Julia Henry, Linda Potter, Larry Kulisek, Stan Vanderwerf, Bob Johnson.

Jim McCoy, Paul Jones, Roger Hallick, Marilyn Wallis, Carole Miller, Ron Guthery.

Diane Hunt, Patty Bazan, and Kathy Palmquist.

A team of four and two alternates will be chosen from the twenty students. The team will be coached by Dr. Gayler and Mr. Bensusan.

Dr. Gayler has also written CBS to acquire about procedure for appearing on the national television show.

An exhibition match is scheduled for an AAUW meeting in the near future.

Textbook Room Hours

The library textbook room will be open from 8-9 a.m. and from 1-3 p.m. for the first five weeks of this semester.

Care for Aged To Be Discussed

Medical care for the aged will be discussed and debated at the February 7 meeting of the Social Science Club.

Dr. Robert Dunshee, Maryville physician and James A. Davis, Vice President of the Missouri AFL-CIO, will be the guest speakers at the 7 p.m. meeting slated to be held in the union lounge.

Davis serves as Lobbyist in Jefferson City for the labor in addition to his office as vice-president.

The two men should provide a lively and interesting discussion as they voice their somewhat conflicting points of view.

A PENNY SAVED!

Men are urged to save their pennys! Why? February 14 is AWS Penlight.

PRESS CLUB TO MEET

The Press Club will meet Feb. 8, 4:00, for the purpose of voting on new members. Students who have completed a semester's work on The Missourian or The Tower are eligible for membership, if they apply before that time to Thelma Gerdes, Ivan Lydon, or Mr. Peel.

Senate Suspends Rules, Requalifies Candidates

"We have decided to suspend all campaigning rules and let the popular vote decide the election."

This was the comment made by Student Body President Joe Merrigan at the February 7, Tower Dance as he announced the Tower Queen. The statement culminated a day filled with formal complaints of campaigning violations and two special senate meetings.

The first meeting took place at 10:30 Saturday morning. It was called to judge on the suspension of rules to requalify one candidate who was automatically disqualified, and whether or not to disqualify another candidate. Both matters ended in disqualification of the queen hopefuls.

The second senate meeting was conducted during the early stages of the dance. Again rule infractions had arisen that would disqualify the two remaining nominees. The senate again judged that constitutionally the rule infractions were such as to cause the candidates to be barred from the race. This left no candidate for Queen.

However, several avenues were open to the governing body. They could rule that there would be no queen, that all would be co-queens, that there would be another election, or that the popular vote would be ruled valid as the senate suspended all rules of campaigning. Considering all factors in the rule infractions, especially that the fault was not that of the queen nominees, the senate ruled to take the latter course.

Consequently the Tower Dance festivities ended as they should have ended. There was a queen by popular choice.

Sue Crone Crowned 1962 Tower Queen

After a confusing round of technicalities (see senate story) Sue Crone was crowned queen of the 1962 TOWER. The ceremony took place at the Tower Dance, Saturday February 7.

Record Winter Term Enrollment

By the end of registration, a record 1,928 undergraduate students had enrolled for winter semester work at Northwest State College. During this same period last year, there was 1,808 attending.

Not yet included are graduate students and parttime students. If the same percentage as last year is held, 30 doing graduate work and 55 in Saturday classes, the total enrollment would be 2,013.

As always, the winter semester registers a drop from the fall entry of 2,200 plus.

Debate Squad Plans Travel

Extensive travel and much debating have been the order of business for this year's NWMSC debate squad.

This season, the debaters have traveled to Kansas State Teachers College, Wayne State Teachers College, Southwestern College, and Pittsburg State Teachers College.

The last of these trips was participation in the 20th Annual Gorilla tournament at Pittsburg.

Debates scheduled for the future include contests at Nebraska Wesleyan, Rockhurst, and Nebraska University.

Debating for NWMSC are Bob Cotter, John Miller, Priscilla Porter, Jeannie Morris, George Fountain.

Marilynn Wallis, Austin Mueller, James Smith, and Jim Phillips.

Commenting on the matches, debate coach David Parker stated that the competition has been keen, but that the Bearcat team has done some fine debating.

Joe Merrigan, student body president, crowned Miss Crone, and Earl Boyd, Union board chairman, presented the queen with a bouquet of Roses.

The Queen was selected from a court of four girls representing three sororities and the Independent Organization. Miss Crone represented Sigma Sigma Sigma and her court consisted of June Lee Nelson, Alpha Sigma Alpha; Sue Teale, representing Phi Mu; and Jeri Irvin, Independent Student Organization.

Dedication

Another highlight of the evening was the dedication of the '62 Tower. This year's staff broke the custom of dedicating the publication to an individual and dedicated it to the "Idea of Advancing Frontiers of Knowledge."

Two individuals were cited in the Tower Accolade. Dr. Irene Mueller and Mr. H. R. Dieterich were so honored.

Dr. Mueller, a professor in the Biology department, joined the staff of NWMSC in 1943. She has been active in many activities and is presently chairman of the NWMSC Studies Committee.

Mr. Dieterich, associate professor in the college education department, served his first year as a faculty member in 1928. Since that time he has headed and been a member of numerous committees and groups.

Dancing

Music for the evening was provided by the Ray Albura band.

WHO'S WHO

Application forms for Who's Who candidates are now available in the Dean of Students office.

February 24, 4 p.m. has been set as the deadline date for filing these forms.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

A Letter to Maw

Students write home about many things. Crackerbarrel Correspondence School was fortunate in acquiring a copy of a letter that a NWMSC Student wrote home.

Maryville, Mo.
Jan. 27, 1962

Dear Maw,

Well, I finally got registered. First I went over to the Registrar's office to find out what I should do next. And would you believe it, you don't register at the Registrar's office, but in the gym. You should see the picture they've got on the wall above the stairs. I've heard of bareback riders, but this is ridiculous. The way them horses is latherin' and sweatin' them fellers would be pickin' horsehair for a week. A feller told me they call it the "Parthenon Freeze" and I sez to him, "They sure will."

I thought as long as I was there I might as well look around, so I went upstairs. They tell me that's where they keep the Chemistry, and from the smell I guess that must be another name for fertilizer. Up on the fourth floor they had a lot of little closets along the wall. A feller was a settin' in one of them closets tootin' on a horn. And do you know he was tootin' so loud and so bad that the plaster was fallin' off the ceiling.

Over at the gym you never did see so many people running 'round, not knowing what they was doin'. The main thing they want to find out is whether or not you can spell your name. There is an advisor in each department. His job is to tell you that you can't take the course you want.

Another funny thing. There are little iron trap doors in the sidewalks, and the smoke and steam comes seeping out through the cracks. Maybe that's where they keep the students that flunked last semester. I don't know, but sometimes I get the feeling this campus is mighty close to Hell.

Hoping you are the same,
Wilbur

Finals Are Just That

Finals are past, the semester is gone, and we have not flunked—yet. But the grueling week has left in our minds a few thoughts about the process.

Probably it is useless to inquire in the general philosophy or utility of finals. Yet reflection leads us to the conclusion that the course might be as profitably completed with a simple ceremony—say, let a duly elected representative of the class throw a pie at the professor.

Why, o why, must the ordeal begin on a weekend? Other colleges restrain themselves; other faculties are willing to forego applying the thumbscrews over the weekend.

As we see it, sitting here in our sophomore slump, it is begging the question to say that students should study as the course progresses. Of course they should, but final's (ugh) are based on the idea that review is an essential element of the learning process.

But some students would not use the time. True, but then some girls now studying Phys. Sci. 1 will become housewives and will never use the table of the earth's ages. Does that mean we should drop Phy. Sci. 1 from the curriculum? Not at all. College should provide opportunities; what the student does with the opportunity is his business.

By the process of metasis we go on to ask, why do finals equate a two hour course with a three hour? If a three hour course is to have a two hour final, why not one hour, 16 minutes for a two hour course? (2 is to 3 as 1 and one-third is to 2, or have we flunked Math 1 again?)

But how, we can hear someone object, do you get 16 minutes as one-third of a hour? This question brings us to our third point. A college class room hour is fifty minutes in length. Then how come a finals hour runs sixty minutes? Shouldn't a two hours final actually run no more than 100 minutes?

With that gem, we'll crawl back into our sophomore slump until Sadie Hawkins week.—The Stroller.

College Personnel Active in Community

Northwest Missouri State College administrators and students continue to project their talents for the local and surrounding communities.

Representing the College at the 1962 regional conference of Teacher Education and Professional Standards was Dr. R. P. Foster, dean of administration. Administrators from various schools throughout the midwest attended this meeting at Hotel Savery, Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 29 and 30.

ARNOLD

Note From Joe Merrigan

As president of the Student Senate I wish to clarify the reason for the senate's actions during the recent election.

The Student Senate is trying to take the steps that should have been taken by the previous senates, one step being to enforce the election regulations which are set.

This resulted in much dispute, many criticisms and several false rumors started by embittered people. There have always been (at least for the last four years) rumors about stuffing ballot boxes. . etc.

This year to quell these rumors I have appointed members of opposing organizations to serve as election officials for each given hour that the polls are open. For instance, a TKE and Sig Tau will work the same hour and serve as a check on one another. This check is one necessary to quiet such rumors.

The ballots are numbered by an automatic numbering machine and the number on the ballots are checked by the sponsors against the list of the student body and the number voting.

Also, it was noticeable at the last election that one of our "above the board" sororities kept a voluntary 8 hour vigilance on the voting procedure.

If you hear various rumors, stop and consider the source. These are probably false rumors started by bitter people.

I feel that the initial steps have now been taken to show that the campaign regulations shall be enforced by the senate. The senate hopes that in the future, campaigning procedures will be held within the prescribed limits.

Registrar Urges Proper Action

Extreme care is urged by the Registrar's office when students drop or add courses after registration.

Officials warn that all such action must go through the proper procedure. The dropping and adding of courses must be conducted through the Registrar's office. Fees are charged for both actions.

The final drop date is scheduled as the tenth day of instruction. The time limit will run through February 9.

Sorority Rush Starts Feb. 12

Keralyn Bates, president of Panhellenic council, announced that the Sorority Rush Week will be conducted February 12-16.

Alpha Sigma Alpha will hold their rush party on Monday, Delta Zeta on Tuesday, Sigma Sigma Sigma on Wednesday, and Phi Mu on Thursday.

The bids will go out on Friday, and the acceptance parties will be held Friday afternoon at 4 p.m.

Fraternity rush will be held following the sororities' activities.

Editorial Staff Puts Out Issue

Starting the second semester, the MISSOURIAN finds itself more than a little short-handed.

This is caused by the departure of most of the first semester reporters who were taking English 58 (Journalism). Another cause is the light enrollment in advanced journalism.

Consequently, this first edition has been done largely by the editorial staff and the adviser. We have done our best to do justice.

So, we appeal to those that we missed for patience, and to those who have an interest in newswork for help. If you have a news story that you believe should be published, please mention it to a staff member or phone the MISSOURIAN office. If you would like to work on the MISSOURIAN, please stop by the office for a chat.

Bearcats Fall 53-62 To Kirksville

Kirksville moved into a tie for fourth place in the MIAA Conference Saturday night by knocking off Northwest State College 62-53 for its second loop win.

The Bulldogs took the lead from the start and used a full-court press to hold down the Bearcat attack.

Kirksville held a 31-19 half-time margin.

Jerry Germain fired in 25 points to lead the Kirks to the win.

MSC pulled within five points with 10:55 left in the game, but Germain popped in three quick jump shots to lengthen the Bulldog margin.

Both teams have 2-4 records in MIAA action; Kirksville is 6-10 for the season and MSC, 6-11.

Good performances were given to the MSC cause by Jerry Meznarich and Don Drake with help from newcomer Nick Neira. Meznarich hit 17, Drake 15 and Neira 11.

In other loop play Saturday night, Warrensburg needed two free throws in the last 10 seconds to annex a 56-55 victory over a tough Springfield quintet.

The Mules' scoring leader, Bud Vallino, was out with a broken bone in the hand and Springfield built a 32-27 lead early in the second half.

But Warrensburg rallied, and notched the win when Bob Dennis hit his late free throws.

Cape Girardeau had little trouble romping over Rolla, 93-68, and running its loop-leading mark to 6-1. At one time the Indians held a 34-point lead.

Woods Drops Out

A report was confirmed Thursday by basketball coach, Marion Moss, that freshman cager, Ron Woods, had left school.

Woods, who had shown touches of brilliance on occasion, had been the leading 'Cat rebounder for most of this season's play. He was scoring at a 10.2 pace and appeared to have lots of basketball potential.

No immediate reason was given for Wood's hasty departure.

Sigmund Freud: "The great question that I have not been able to answer, despite my 30 years of research into the feminine soul, is "What does a woman want?"

—from Reader's Digest

Chalk Talk . . . Bob Cobb

The Bearcat roundballers have been busy as the proverbial "beaver" since the last Missourian publication. During this time the 'Cats split two conference games on the road, nipping Rolla, 55-51, in over-time, and bowing to Cape', 86-56. Next, a strong Warrensburg quintet downed the 'Cats, 55-53, on the Lampkin Court. Maryville regained its winning ways by beating William Penn College, 61-58, on the road. Returning home, the 'Cat cagers edged Rolla, 76-74, for their second conference victory.

MIAA Scorers

Two percentage points separate George McFarland and Bill Giessing in the contest for the MIAA scoring leadership. McFarland, of Warrensburg, is scoring at a 25.4 mark, and Giessing if Cape' is averaging 25.2. Schuckman of Rolla is in the third slot collecting 20.2 tallies per battle. Bud Vallino, Warrensburg, is fourth in the League scoring department tallying 19.5 points in league play. Jerry Meznarich holds the fifth position in the MIAA, tossing in 19.4 markers per encounter.

Rebounders

Don Drake, hustling Bearcat forward, has upped his conference scoring mark to 13.2 points per game. Drake and Meznarich also lead the 'Cats in rebounding, gathering slightly over eight caroms per outing.

Moss Pleased

Basketball coach, Marion Moss, seemed encouraged by the recent endeavors of his proteges, and hoped for a strong season finish. The Bearcats, under Moss, have never finished below the .500 mark in three seasons. A late season surge could bring the 'Cats above the break-even stage.

Get-well wishes are extended to swim-coach, Guy Ben-susan, who is now trying to win an important meet with the pneumonia bug.

NWMSC Enrolls Big Center

Head Basketball Coach Marion Moss expressed a great deal of happiness that his search for a big man to play the center position was finally ended when he learned that former Colorado U. star, Roger Voss, had enrolled at NWMSC.

Voss, who hails from Austin, Minnesota, stands six-eight and weighs about two-twenty in playing condition. He was the leading Colorado scorer in the 1960-61 season averaging 17.9 points a game.

Although he entered Colorado University on a football scholarship, Voss was named to the All-Big-Eight basketball team in 1961. He was listed among the Top Twenty basketball players in the midland area in this year's edition of the DELL BASKETBALL ANNUAL.

Coach Moss commented that Voss will not play this season, but will be a welcome addition to next year's squad which could be one of the best around. Moss was also happy to learn that 6'4" sophomore forward, Ken Sheradan, had enrolled for the spring semester at NWMSC.
